Message from the Chairperson

Women constitute half of humanity and there is no limit to what women can accomplish. Armoured with education confidence grace and intelligence women have demonstrated their potential in combating all challenges and making their presence conspicuous in practically all spheres of life. AaroHi even in the pandemic Times worked as a catalyst for youthful voices proving that nothing can be a deterrent when one treads with conviction. AaroHi is a collaboration between inquisitive learners and dedicated facilitators who embrace the Covid wave of transformation with promptitude. AaroHi became the pro active voice of pent up emotions and desires to conquer all impediments. The magazine has immense potential in shaping social consciousness through diverse views and thematically rich content. The annual release of AaroHi I am told, exudes a sublime excitement that settles in our being as a reminiscence to cherish. I congratulate the team of editors and contributors in their attempt to capture and compile the thoughts of young budding writers.

- Shri Prince Sharma

From Principal's Desk

I draw inspiration from the words of Malala Yousafzai when she says "I raise up my voice not so that I can shout but so that those without a voice can be heard... We cannot all succeed when half of us are not held back"

The young and vibrant women force at Aditi are an epitome of resilience and strength. Empowered with education are students striding forward with courage and conviction, conquering any adversity that comes their way on domestic or professional front. AaroHi is an invincible platform offering the optimistic promise of being the voice for young creative minds. It is a celebration of the undaunted efforts by women in carving a safe recovered haven in the post pandemic period through their impeccable wisdom, preparedness and exceptional leadership. Women have sparkled as frontline workers, doctors, nurses and community helpers when the call for humanity heralded them. The contribution of women in all facets of life forces us to say that the sky is pink and has the pole star symbolic of women power. AaroHi, a beautiful compilation of inspiring poems, quotes, stories and articles celebrating women, has evolved over the years and I take pride in wishing it success in all future endeavours.

Message from Teacher In Charge

काम करो ऐसा कि पहचान बन जाये
हर कदम ऐसे चलो की निशान बन जाये
यहाँ जिंदगी तो हर कोई काट लेता है
लेकिन जिंदगी जियो इस कदर कि मिसाल बन जाये

This famous couplet echoes the spirit of students and teachers of the Department of Education. We at Aditi Mahavidyalaya have been conducting the BEEd course for 28 years now and around one thousand students have graduated from our college. During these years, the teachers and the students have faced numerous challenges and encountered typical situations which required us to innovate, experiment and put in more than 100%. The team has continuously challenged the seemingly impossible and the motivation levels have been extremely high. We have learnt to work around the limitations and build on our strengths. We have had to face defeat many times but we have always risen from the dust, every time, a little stronger in will and smarter in approach.

The session 2021 -22 has faced the challenge of Covid 19 and reopening after covid 19. During the periods of lockdown the department has organized many online sessions and workshops with experts and when the colleges were opened in phased manner physical sessions were organized. During the post Covid opening up teachers identified the learning gaps among students and worked meticulously to cover those gaps.

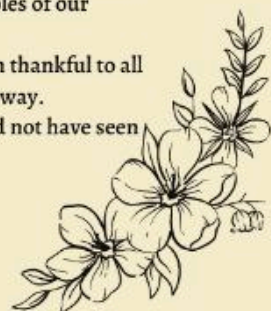

The BEEd students' of college make us proud. They excelled in the curricular and co-curricular areas. Our BEEd topper for the third year, (2022 Examinations) Ms Kajal, is the University toppers too. Students – Ms Areeba (B.ElEd 3rd Year) and Ms Roopika (B.ElEd 4th Year) presented research paper in the National conference funded by UGC; Ms Manisha (BEEd 4th year) published research paper based on her school research project, in a peer reviewed journal and many other mentioned in detail in the newsletter. These are examples of our unquenchable thirst of never settling for less, which helped us to achieve stupendous success in all spheres.

It gives me immense pleasure and pride to present another issue of Aarohi, a journey into Covid and post Covid times. I am thankful to all members of the department – teachers, students and laboratory staff for making their valuable contributions in their own way. I sincerely thank our principal Prof Mamta Sharma for her guidance, support and motivation, without which Aarohi would not have seen the light of the day.

Best Wishes
