PRINCIPAL'S ANNUAL REPORT (2014-15)

I take the opportunity to convey my warmest greetings to you on behalf of Aditi family and welcome you all for our Annual Day. It is indeed a grateful moment that we have today with us Professor Dr. Manoj Kumar Jha, Mr George Abraham and Ms Preeti Monga to honor the event. I assure that your presence here is a source of inspiration and motivation for the staffs and students.

Our Chief Guest, Professor (Dr.) Manoj Kumar Jha holds position of HOD in Department of Social Work, University of Delhi. He is an eminent social scientist and academician. His concerns for society and community had from very beginning which depicted in his doctoral work on “Bhagalpur communal violence of 1989”. He accolades saga of achievements of more than two decades and many milestones in his journey as an academician. His research interest comprises majority-minority relations, protest movements and community organization and many more grass root level issues. Also his literary knowledge depicted through his writings. He credits many books in his account addressing and critically analyzing various social concerns of the society like issues of riots, minority, education, and concerns for access, equity and inclusion. His expertise for peace making and conflict management contributed not only at national level also acclaims internationally. This is not a small acknowledgement that he is one of the renowned social worker of our country. He also has in-depth understanding of political discourse in the country. His association and collaboration with various national and international agencies provided a path for many professionals to achieve their research and academic goals. We welcome Prof. (Dr.) Manoj Kumar Jha on our annual day of the Aditi Mahavidyalaya, University of Delhi.

Our special guest, George Abraham, a post graduate in Operations Research and graduate in Mathematics from St. Stephen's College, started his career in advertising in 1981. After which he began working with the visually impaired. In 1990 he launched national cricket programs for the blinds and established the World Cricket Council for the Blind in 1996. In 2002 George founded Score Foundation and launched its flagship Project Eyeway in 2003, which is a single stop Knowledge Resource for blind and visually impaired people with the object of changing lives through the power of Knowledge. Recently George joined Magiktuch Talent Management Private Limited as a Director. The company identifies grooms and promotes professional blind musicians. In the past George has been conferred with awards such as, the Sanskriti Award, the Rotary Vocational Award, The Limca Book of Record's “People of the Year” Award and was elected as an Ashoka fellow in 2001. In 1996, he also had the privilege of running with the Olympic Torch at Atlanta. Having spent over two decades working in the domain of Life with blindness George has diverse experience having worked as a trainer/motivational speaker, a promoter of cricket for the blind and a disability Activist/Communicator.

Our special guest, Preeti Monga is Director of Silver Linings, an organization which offers a host of services to corporations and the citizen at large. Preeti is the first visually impaired Aerobic instructor in the country and also is an outstanding motivational speaker, trainer and marketing professional. Sales, fund raising, freelance writing and counseling are her other areas of expertise. She has always stood her ground and rooted herself in the mainstream with dedication and unrelenting perseverance as her key strengths. Via the Silver Linings trainings and workshops, Preeti inspires and influences her audiences to abandon defeating beliefs and habits; to fearlessly embrace change with a positive and progressive attitude leading to interminable growth and success. The 'Red and White Bravery' Award, the 'Rajeev Gandhi Manav Seva' Award and the IIPM 'Indomitable Spirit of Survival' award are some of the national awards that have been bestowed upon her.

COLLEGE REPORT

On the occasion of Annual Day I like to acknowledge first and foremost, our dedicated and endowed students of all departments who are our assets and future glory for the institution. I take the opportunity to thank our core strength, our faculties who play a vital role in all activities of the college by their unconditional support. It gives me immense pleasure to thank the teacher in-charges, conveners and members of all committees and societies for their effortless commitment in all activities which gave momentum to our institution at various levels. With great pleasure I acknowledge the support provided by Mr V P Tiwari, Administrative officer, I also acknowledge the invaluable contribution of Section Officers Mr Ashutosh Aggarwal (Administration) and Mr Indra Kant Mishra (Accounts). I thank each support staff for the contribution made for the institution. It's an honor to share that our non teaching staff is key to execute functioning of day to day activities with ease.

CAMPUS IMPROVEMENTS

The addition to the existing block of classrooms a new storey addition spurred the academic activities for the current session. The new spacious library building occupied with two storeys is in process of completion and will be functional within a month. The academic session also witnessed shifting of cafeteria to new building with sufficient space and essential seating arrangement for providing efficient service. Infrastructure development is core to quality environment promise to our students and staff at Aditi which we will be continuing with fast pace to reiterate our commitment.

ADITI AT ANTARDHWANI

Aditi Mahavidyalaya participated in Antardhwani (an academic and cultural festival of University of Delhi) during 20 to 22 February, 2015. University of Delhi commenced Awards for "Good Practices" under a theme entitled "Delhi University: Meeting the Challenges before India". Our college is proud to have won a special commendation prize of Rupees 1 Lakh for showcasing its good practices in the event. The Aditians represented themselves through modern technology and celebrated multi-faceted women empowerment since twenty years. There were reflections on good practices from antiquity to present. The presentation focused on the theme 'Retro to Metro' in which challenges and achievements of the college were displayed at the event. Our effective communication with the students through best academic practices including quality teaching aids, skill development and academic excellence programs were highly applauded. The spatial expansion of Aditi from 1994 to 2015 across the globe was fundamental in establishing the glory of the institution. Our active participation in resolving societal crisis around us through our committees, societies and projects traversed many mile stones. Products of the Institution ranging from Aditi foods, art and craft, herbal plants, bottle garden, and tray garden displayed with great enthusiasm and shown path to entrepreneurship amongst students. The Aditians have contributed to uplift the underprivileged section of societies through Income Generation Programs incorporating two Self Help Groups (S.H.G.s) and Antardhwani platform enabled to showcase the products made by them. An initiative to increase the awareness through three street plays on honour killing, Gandhian ideology and status of Yamuna River received great acknowledgement by the University.
